DETAILED ACTION

1. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 3, lines 6-7, the recitation "from the earliest sequential said at least one frame" is vague and indefinite because it is not clear to what it refers to. In other words, it is unclear whether the at least one frame refers to the previous frame or to the subsequent frame of the image. Corrections and/or clarification is requested.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Sekiya et al(2003/0006949A1).

Sekiya et al disclose an overdrive controller for driving a liquid crystal display device comprising receiving an image(3) and modifying the image by alternatively overdriving at least one pixel based upon at least one predicted displayed luminance value of the pixel in at least one subsequent frame of the image[0056] and at least one previously displayed luminance value the pixel in at least one previous frame of the image to increase or decrease the at least one pixel's luminance output(see figures 1, 4-6; paragraphs[0010-0011], [0035-0036] and [0046-0054].

As to claims 2-3, Sekiya et al also disclose that their image modification is between to consecutive frames wherein the at least one previously displayed luminance value of the pixel are stored in respective frame buffers(13) and the predicted actual displayed luminance value is at state when the LCD material is not at an equilibrium state(see paragraphs [0011], [0015] and [0037-0041].

4. Applicant's arguments filed 1/11/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. It is noted that applicants under the heading "Remarks" have not pointed out any disagreements with the examiner's contentions and have not also discussed the reference to Sekiya et al applied against the claims, explaining how the claims avoid the reference or distinguish from it.

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
